Speaking Engagements

Daniel Hoskins presented 'Creation Science, What It Is and Why Is It Important' to the Campus Light Group at WVUIT on Monday evening, April 27. His message was well received by the group. He pointed out that "real" science proves there is no spontaneous generation and that life does not come from non-life. Rick Greathouse, Tony Breeden, Linda Hoskins and Brock Terry from our group was also present. It was estimated that about 35 students attended the meeting.

Daniel was also invited to Unity Faith Chapel at Mineral Wells, to speak in the morning service on June 28. He used his 'Living Fossils' presentation. There were about 25 people present including Tony Breeden and his family and Linda Hoskins. Daniel showed how some creatures believed to be extinct and only visible in fossil remains turn out to be living today and have not changed over the past 'millions' of years according to evolution beliefs.

Karl Priest spoke on July 20 at St. Albans Salvation Army summer Program and on July 26 at First Baptist St. Albans VBS opening. He will also be speaking at the following places on August 3 Discovery Kingdom Day Care (South Charleston) and August 6 Morris Memorial Methodist summer day camp Session II.

Adventures of the KGSG: Into the Intelligentsia Den

by Karl Priest

Early in the history of the Kanawha Creation Science Group we found ourselves cast into a den of lions (or should I say liars?).

Well, he invited us. So Bobby O'Connor, Jo Bricker, and I accompanied our "big" gun, Dr. John Roller, to our dedicated session.

The place was packed and (to my knowledge) we were the only Christian conservatives there. I didn't know John very well at the time, but he had readily offered to speak and the rest of us did not feel confident enough to do it. John got up and did the Woody Woodpecker call. You know, from the cartoon! I thought, "Oh, no! What have we done?" Then John (without notes) goes into a 45+ minute description of the attributes of a woodpecker that held the audience's avid attention (Power point did not exist then).

Afterwards, during the Q/A John embarrassed one of the UC science professors who thought he was going to humiliate John. Even Bobby shot down a group of science professors who raised some questions about the sun. That was a wonderful night and firmly established that local nobodys could show evolutionism is for the birds.

CreationLetter.com by Rev Tony Breeden

CreationLetter.com is now preparing for the Creation Sunday 2010 campaign.

Basically, we've launched a state-by-state grassroots network at <http://creationsunday.ning.com> for the purpose of coordinating an en masse Tea Party-styled Creation Sunday celebration at Bible-affirming churches all over the USA on February 14, 2010. This is a direct challenge to Dr Michael Zimmerman's proposed Evolution Sunday, which will be celebrated the world over by the nearly 12,000 ministers who've signed Zimmerman's Clergy Letter Project. As a reminder, the Clergy Letter states that evolution is a scientific fact and that Genesis chapters 1 thru 11 are teaching stories akin to Aesop's fables rather than divinely-revealed history. The Creation Sunday Network at <http://creationsunday.ning.com> will allow Creationists to network, exchange ideas and information & promote Creation Sunday and Creationism in general. Members who join this network will also be able to register their church's intent to join the Creation Sunday 2010 celebration and be able to list Creation-related events in their area. CreationLetter.com is a Biblical 6-day Creationist response to Zimmerman's pro-evolution Clergy Letter Project, sponsored in part by the Kanawha Creation Science Group.
